FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Is the marina accepting incoming vessels?

Yes. St. Maarten is now open to yachts, cruisers and private vessels.

Are vessels allowed to depart the marina?

Yes. There are currently no restrictions on departing vessels, however, you may not be able to return once you've departed based on government restrictions.

Are the marina amenities currently available for use?

No. At this time all marina amenities are closed.

Is there a curfew in place?

11:00 pm to 5:00 am / 7 days a week.

Are vessel repairs available?

Crew members are allowed to perform repairs due to the 24 hour curfew.

Is fueling available?

Fueling is available by appointment only. Please contact the marina office directly.

Are ports currently open?

Vessels over 500g Tons can be accommodated for fueling and provisioning, otherwise the A.C. Wathey Cargo Port is only open to Military vessels and essential cargo ships.

Air airports currently open?

Yes. Grande Case Esperance Airport on the French side is open for flights to and from Guadeloupe.

Is St. Barth's Open For Visitors?

Yes. Every visitor to the island will be asked to provide a COVID-negative RT-PCR test performed within three days prior to the visitor's departure. If it's not possible to arrange a test prior to departure, visitors will be required to be tested for COVID-19 within 24 hours of arrival. Until test results are known, visitors will be required to observe "strict quarantine" in their villa or hotel room "during which time interaction is limited to only those traveling in your party." Test results will take less than 24 hours to be released, Magras said. For those staying on the island for more than seven days, a second RT-PCR test will be required on Day 7. (Children under the age of 10 do not require a test).

ECONOMIC RE-OPENING PLAN

Re-opening per sector subsequent to requirements noted in the Regulation for Businesses based on Social Distancing

The phased re-opening is contingent upon the Country's ability to contain the spread of the corona virus (COVID-19). If there is a resurgence in the number of cases, the phased re-opening will be delayed and/ or reversed.
